LIA sponsoring poster contest

In celebrating its 60th anniversary this month, the Lafayette Improvement Association will stage a poster contest for Lafayette school students in grades four through eight.

The Lafayette Improvement Association (LIA) was founded in 1913. "This poster contest is being held to commemorate 60 years of activity in our community and an abiding interest in making and keeping Lafayette the finest and most beautiful place to live in the whole world," said Mrs. Sue Jones, LIA chairman for the contest.

The contest will be sponsored in cooperation with the Lafayette School District.

A number of prizes will be offered: one $10 cash prize for the best poster in each school; a $5 gift certificate for the best poster in each grade city-wide; and a 10-speed bicycle for the grand prize for the best poster in all the schools and all the grades.

The theme of the contest is: "Lafayette: 60 Years of Living." Mrs. Jones said the posters can show one's impressions of the many sides of living in Lafayette such as "our ecology, our police, our schools, our city government, our traffic, our walkways, our bikeways, our recreation, our parks, our home life and whatever else one can think of."

She added one cannot get everything on one poster, so contestants should choose a topic that interests them.

"Show on your poster your impressions, your ideas, your appreciation, or even how you would make things better," she suggested.

The contest will be judged by an independent panel of five judges from community, including Sun Newspaper photographer Walter Dzikielewski (JAK). Points that will be considered in judging will be originality of topic and thinking, expression and execution of ideas, and impact and force of poster.

All posters must be completed and in the main office of a student's school by the afternoon of May 9. Contestants must put their name, grade, school, home phone, and address on back of poster. Contestants may pick up free poster board material from their respective school administration offices, said Mrs. Jones.

For further information, contestants may phone Mrs. Jones at 284-5538 or John Tatum at 284-5460.

Winners will be announced and prizes awarded at the Lafayette Improvement Association's special "Town Hall Meeting" set for May 29. Location of the meeting and name of guest speaker will be announced at a later date.
